

Dear

I'm reaching out today to discuss my professional development. As you know, I am eager to support the success of our team and organization as well as continuously improve my professional skills.

For those reasons, I would like to enroll in the Lab Safety Management Certificate program from Lab Manager Academy. This program stood out to me because it has been designed specifically to support existing and potential lab safety managers with the tools and knowledge needed to prioritize safety, mitigate risks, and drive excellence in lab safety management. Investing in this specialized training offers our organization ROI benefits such as increased productivity, higher employee engagement and satisfaction, improved staff and leadership retention, and a robust organizational framework.

Here are the logistical details:

Start Date: Immediately

Course Duration: 3-4 weeks on average

Delivery Method: Online, at your own pace

Price: $1,249 USD

Does our company provide funding for professional development opportunities like this? If so, I would like to discuss what it would take to get this opportunity approved.
